

MSE 2211: BIO:Vaccines&Public Perception

Overview of vaccine science and pathogens, including how the history of vaccines, anti-vaccine movements, and social contexts play integral roles in public perception. Laboratory topics include an inquiry-based progression through vaccine design and student-designed public outreach campaigns to promote vaccination.

Credits: 4.0

Program: Biology