

EGEN 3200: Product & Service Prototyping

Team-based course focused on the design and construction of a proof-of-principle prototype which demonstrates a product or service. Students will create a high-level product design specification and conduct market and competitive analysis; hold consumer focus interviews and report findings.

Credits: 3.0

Prerequisites:

Co-Requisites:

Program: Engineering