

EGR 2005: Bridging Diver & Bldg Communit

View cultural diversities as opportunities that will enhance the creativity and overall quality of any project development process or team effort. The course will provide students with pragmatic tools for understanding and working effectively across and through differences in culture and communication in professional situations and promote an inclusive design approach for solutions. Includes tactical emphasis on effective teaming, innovative teams, and difference by design. Restricted to 30 students (15 seats reserved for Engineering. Junior or senior level.

Credits: 3

Program: Engineering