

CHM 4641: Chemical & Biochemical Imaging

The course provides a survey of recent microscopy advances that push the boundaries of image resolution. Instruments and techniques that probe the inner workings of the cell at the level of individual molecules will be discussed, including confocal, TIRF, quantum dots, AFM, and PALM.

Credits: 3.0

Program: Department Chemistry and Biochemistry