

ENG 3170: Love & War in Medieval Romance

Medieval romances - texts about chivalry and love - have shaped everything from racial identity to flirting. This course considers how romances depict sexuality and gender; construct notions of religious otherness; and shape ideas about peoples and political power.

Credits: 3.0

Program: English