

HUM 3400: Nature, Technology, America

How has America reconciled its reverence for nature with its exceptional claims of technological prowess? Explores the intersection of nature and technology using Leo Marx's idea of "the machine in the garden" in American cultural, social, and art history.

Credits: 3

Program: Humanities