

ENG 4503: Indigenous Lit of the Americas

How have Indigenous peoples of the Americas created their own literary traditions? This course introduces students to a wide range of Indigenous literatures produced before 1900, examining how Native writers navigated varying forms that challenge conventional understandings of "literature."

Credits: 3.0

Program: English