

LAW 7119: Bioethics and the Law

Consideration of various legal, ethical, and policy aspects of health care, including informed consent, reproduction, organ transplantation, end-of-life care, and genetics. Each student will have an option to take a final exam or to write a substantial paper to satisfy the course requirements, though the course does not satisfy the research paper requirement.

Credits: 3.0