

CADC 0050: Language in Couns Relationship

Language in the Context of the Counseling Relationship This seminar examines core aspects regarding the use of specific communication techniques to facilitate the change process. Emphasis is placed upon flexibility & adaptation of communication styles & techniques by clinicians in response to a client's preferred communication method. The use of metacommunication, metaphor & conscious/unconscious will be explored as a means of enhancing the clinicians pool of available techniques.

Credits: 1.0