

ADV 1001: Advising: Exploring Sciences

Provides first-year students with an opportunity to explore various science majors. Develops practical skills to help maintain health and wellness, exhibit professionalism, learn effective time management and investigate possible professional directions. Taught by faculty advisors and student support staff.

Credits: 1.0